Synopsis

Best friends forever Laura and Christine, both sweet sixteen, are inseparable... until the arrival of new girl in town, the super-confident and feisty Maria. Laura is at once captivated and mystified by Maria, as Christine feels increasingly alienated. While Laura hangs on her every word, Maria takes her by the hand on a wild and hedonistic journey through adolescence to adulthood. Kaspar Munk's second feature offers a sensitive portrayal of female teenage angst in this gritty coming-of-age story about idolisation, vulnerability, sexuality, and ultimately friendship.

The Director

Born in Denmark in 1971, Munk studied method acting and techniques in New York, and also studied at the National Film School in Denmark prior to graduating from Copenhagen University in 1999 with a BA in Film Studies. He then went on to study further at the alternative film school Super16 from 2003-2006. Munk's feature film debut Hold om mig (Hold Me Tight) (2010) was awarded the Marc 'Aurelio Award for Best Debuting Feature in Rome, the Best Feature Film Award at the Tallinn Black Nights Film Festival, and two honours at Mannheim-Heidelberg: the Ecumenical Award and Audience Award. Following You & Me Forever (2012), Munk was awarded the prestigious Nordisk Film Award in 2013. His short films have also achieved festival success with Forsvunden (2006) receiving Odense International Film Festival's Best Film for Children & Youth award.
